Husky Helper

In gym I suck at everything and if I try I'm disappointed because I can't do better but if I don't try I feel like I'm not helping the team or group I'm put on. What do I do?

Dear Husky,

The best thing to do is practice the activity you are doing in gym later on in your free time. If you enjoy it, practice by doing small things that might help. Also no worries, a lot of people feel like that. Don't be disappointed if you can't do as well as some others, you are still giving it your all. They might have more experience, that's all. You are still important to each and every team and group you are a part of.

I am getting bullied but don't want to say anything to an adult.

Dear Husky,

It is understandable if you don't want to tell an adult, but that is the best thing to do. If you really don't want to or can't, try getting a trusted friend that already knows or you can tell. So they can help you resolve it together, or with adults. It's important to know you aren't alone, as cheesy as that may sound.

Your fellow Husky Helpers

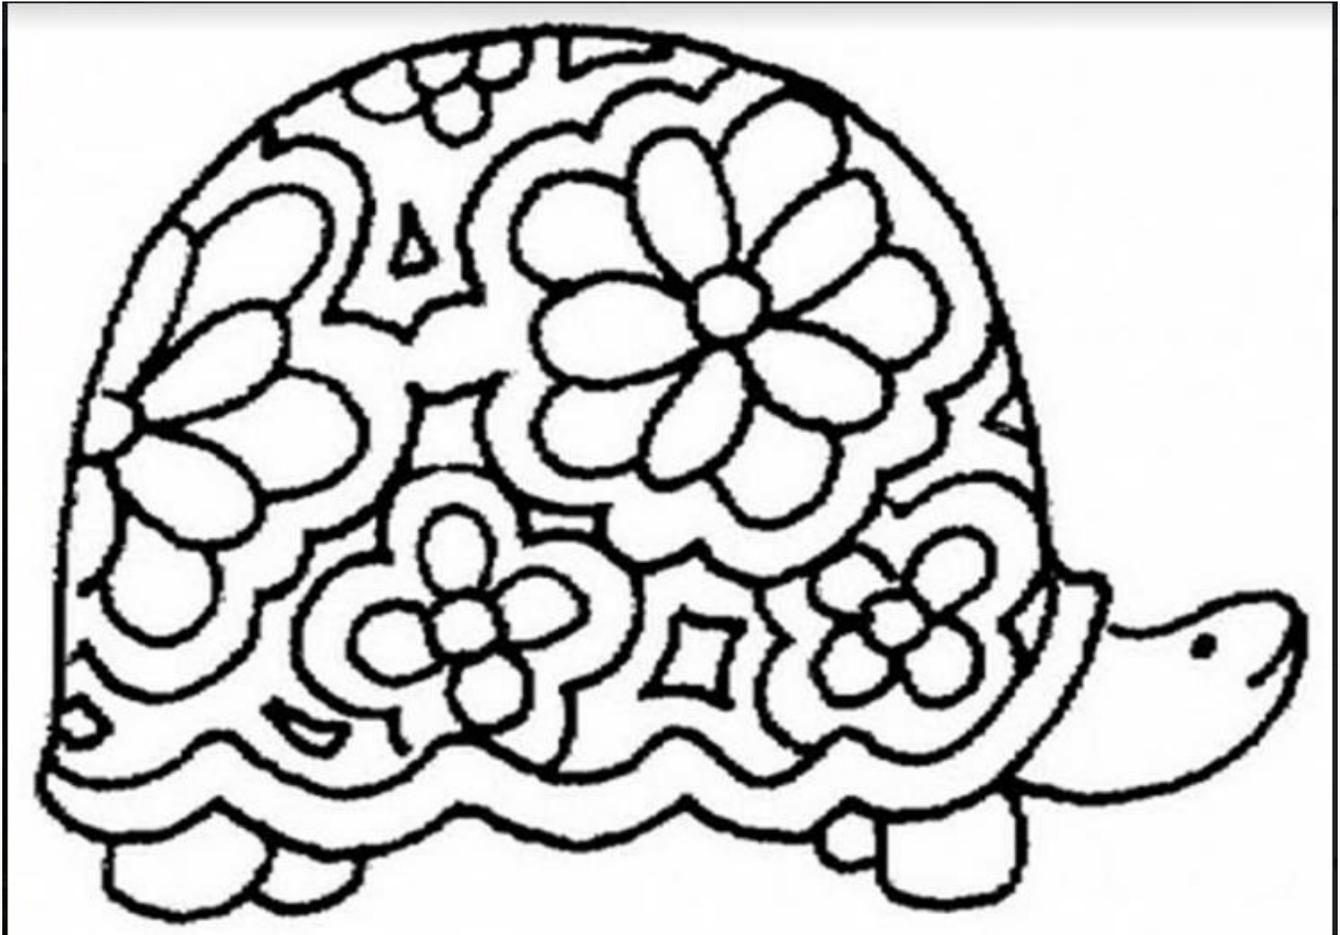

So I have a friend that is really mean to me some days and all the other days they can't leave my side and out of nowhere they blow up in my face and I don't know what to do.

Dear Husky,

Is it worth being their friend? A good or true friend wouldn't blow up in your face or get mad at you without an explanation. Try asking them why they are mad, or blew up next time. If they don't have a reason or it's just because, they aren't a true friend and it isn't worth your time. Be careful about how and when you ask them why though, they could take it as if you are angry with them.
